Please save the date!

Dear guests,

In October 2021, France will host the Global Summit on Mental Health entitled "Mind Our Rights, Now!".

After London in 2018 and Amsterdam in 2019, this third summit will be milestone to mobilize for rights in mental health and for quality care systems respectful of human rights. While reflecting the current health context, «Mind Our Rights, Now!» mental health summit will focus on three objectives:

- To accelerate the international momentum for human rights in mental health
- To promote an approach respecting people's dignity and rights in services addressing mental health
- To share positive lessons learned between professionals, civil society representatives and policy makers in order to accelerate the evolution of practices in psychiatry and mental health.
